CLEVERLY CAUGHT.

A WATCH-EMBEZZLING DARKY FINALLY RUN DOWN.

More Than Two Months After His Crime Was Committed—A Dude Bootblack's Bad Shine—Constable Ed Smith's Sharp Work.

One of the smoothest pieces of detective work of recent record was successfully wound up last night by Constable Ed R. Smith.

Something over two months ago Mrs. Laura Smith, a colored woman, employed as janitress of the Los Angeles National Bank, was robbed in a curious way. Her home is on Georgia street, just below Alameda, and there she has a couple of lodgers—both young colored men. Mrs. Smith was the proud possessor of a gold watch, for which she paid $35 at Nordlinger's, and a gold chain, which cost $32. One of her lodgers, named William A. Davis, was enamored of the watch, and, with her permission, wore it one day. Davis is a sort of dusky dude, and used to assist the old colored bootblack on First street, just below Spring. One morning Mrs. Smith left home to attend to her duties at the bank. The watch she had put under her pillow the night before, and now she forgot to put it on. Having reached the bank, she remembered the watch, and retraced her steps. But, alas! when she put her hand under the pillow her precious chronometer was not there. She went to the room of her lodgers and wakened them, telling of her loss. Davis was grieved and shocked. He promenaded with her to the police station, and gave a description of the stolen ticker; also to the pawnbrokers' shops, warning them that if a watch of such and such a number were pawned with them or offered to be sold to them, they should inform him or Mrs. Smith. Mrs. Smith had cherished some suspicions of her lodger, but his present zeal in her behalf disarmed her, and she gave up her watch as lost for good.

About six weeks ago, however, in cleaning up her room, she found an envelope post-marked Hot Springs, Ark., March 29th, and directed to W. A. Davis, Los Angeles, Cal. With renewed suspicion she drew forth the tell-tale letter it contained, and read it. It runs as follows:

"HOT SPRINGS (Ark.), May 29.—E. R. Smith, Constable Los Angeles: Got No. 8 size lady's gold watch with wire chain, No. 2,715,490, Seaside, sent by Davis to his mother. Answer. J. E. HART,
Chief of Police.

So much for so much. Meantime Davis, who had given up bootblacking, and had been for a month Judge John I. Redick's coachman—had gone to Santa Monica and secured a position in the barber-shop of the Hotel Arcadia. As soon as Smith received the above telegram, he had his trotter hitched up, and speeded away to the seaside. Accomplishing the drive to Santa Monica in 1:30, he had his horse put up, entered the hotel, and walked down stairs to the barber-shop. The first man he laid eyes on was his man, but he wasn't quite sure of him.

"Hello. Is yo' stoppin' here?" asked Davis. "I use' to black yo' boots dere on Firs' street."

"That's so," said Ed. "I remember you now. Your name is Davis, isn't it?"

"Yessah"—with a pleased grin.

"I thought so," said Smith, "and I've got a warrant for you,"

The pleased grin faded out, and Davis wanted to know "whaffoh?" When told that it was for the theft of his ex-landlady's watch, he strenuously denied all knowledge thereof, and talked lightly of the matter. Smith brought him up to the city, making the return trip in one hour and twenty-five minutes. All the way up Davis was reeling off lie after lie. At Washington street, however, Smith showed him the tell-tale letter from his mother, and Davis gave up the game. "Wha—what? Why, fo' God I to't I burned dat dam letter!" He practically confessed his guilt before reaching the jail, claiming that a girl gave him the watch; that he knew it was stolen, but didn't wish to "give de gal away" by returning it to the owner; that he therefore sent it as a present to his mother, and that it was three days on its way before Mrs. Smith discovered her loss. This, and a lot of other contradictory stuff, he told, but "got his foot in it" deeper at every step. He was lodged in the County Jail, and will come up before Justice Austin this morning on a charge of grand larceny. His chances for San Quentin are first-class.

CATCHING ON.

Mrs. Smith saw it all in an instant. Davis had slipped into her room that morning and stolen her watch from under the pillow. Not daring to keep it here he had sent it as a present to his poor old mother in Arkansaw, who had used her hard earnings to redeem his own watch from pawn. But like a wise woman, Mrs. Smith did not "let on." She put the matter in the hands of Constable Ed R. Smith, who at once set to work to recover the stolen property and then to bag the thief. He wrote to the Chief of Police of Hot Springs, giving a description of the watch and chain, and the maker's number on the former, and telling him where they were to be found. The Hot Springs Chief is no slouch, and he ferreted the matter out at once. Yesterday noon Constable Smith received the following telegram from him:

HOT SPRINGS (Ark.), May 25.—E. R. Smith, Constable Los Angeles: Got No. 8 size lady's gold watch with wire chain, No. 2,715,490, Seaside, sent by Davis to his mother. Answer. J. E. HART,
Chief of Police.

So much for so much. Meantime Davis, who had given up bootblacking, and had been for a month Judge John I. Redick's coachman—had gone to Santa Monica and secured a position in the barber-shop of the Hotel Arcadia. As soon as Smith received the above telegram, he had his trotter hitched up, and speeded away to the seaside. Accomplishing the drive to Santa Monica in 1:30, he had his horse put up, entered the hotel, and walked down stairs to the barber-shop. The first man he laid eyes on was his man, but he wasn't quite sure of him.

"Yessah"—with a pleased grin.

"I thought so," said Smith, "and I've got a warrant for you,"

The pleased grin faded out, and Davis wanted to know "whaffoh?" SAD NEWS.

Henry N. Galloway's Death at Peach Springs.

There are few people of any length of residence in Los Angeles who did not know Harry Galloway. A young man of straight integrity, excellent education, good mind and bright prospects, he probably numbered as many friends as any man of his years in the city. His father was the Hon. Sam Galloway, of Columbus, one of the central figures of Ohio politics a generation ago; and the son inherited many of the mental and social gifts which made the father famous. Socially Henry N.—or Harry, as his friends knew him—was a general favorite; and in business his ability and uprightness commanded the confidence of all who came in contact with him. He has been engaged in the abstract business, the style of the firm being Galloway & Lienau. For the past year his friends have been pained to note the serious physical change which has been creeping over him, making the bright, handsome, high-bred face thin and pale. Some six months ago he lost his voice suddenly, and it has never come back to him. He tried a month or more of the best medical treatment in San Francisco, but the savage climate of the Bay City sent him home worse than he went. He tried the mountain air of Newhall and other places, but without benefit. His younger brother, Tod, and his mother have been with him for some months, and last week he decided to go back with them to his old Ohio home, hoping to find relief in the change. The few friends whom he met last Friday, and told of his intention, were shocked to see how he had changed for the worse. The shadow was already upon his wan face. Last Sunday morning the party started eastward, accompanied by Dr. W. L. Wills, in whose charge Harry was. At 6 o'clock Monday morning, just as the train was pulling into Peach Springs, the end of the first Arizona division of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad from The Needles, the flickering lamp went out, and all that was mortal of Henry N. Galloway had passed to the unknown.

The remains are being taken to Columbus for interment. Deceased was a native of Ohio, and 28 years of age.

DECORATION DAY.

Frank Bartlett Post Preparing—A Monument Projected.

At the regular meeting of the Frank Bartlett Post, G. A. R., held at their hall Tuesday evening, a goodly number of comrades and visiting veterans were present. The subject of appropriate exercises on Decoration day was taken up and discussed, and a full attendance urged. A cordial invitation was extended to all visiting comrades to attend the services and participate in them.

Several speeches were made by visiting comrades, which were listened to with much interest. Comrades Sherman and Skinner, and one or two others, made remarks.

An invitation from Rev. Cantine, of the Fort-street Methodist Church, to attend services at Mott Hall, on Sunday morning, at 10:30 o'clock, was received and accepted, and the post will attend in a body.

After transacting the regular routine of business, a new subject was brought up of considerable importance. The post proceeded to discuss the plan of taking initiatory steps toward erecting a soldier's monument on their lot in the Evergreen Cemetery. They already have a fund in the Savings Bank amounting to $600, which has accumulated for this purpose. The members of the post are united in their purpose and will commence at once to secure the balance necessary to erect the tribute to the memory of their dead comrades. They propose to raise about $1000 among themselves if possible, and put in position a monument to cost about $1500. It has been proposed by outsiders that the post could give an entertainment in order to raise the amount, but they will hardly do this save as a last resort, for they are generally confident that they can get it subscribed among themselves. Plans are being drawn and bids prepared by several marble sculptors. The one most favorably spoken of by comrades is a shaft with the statue of a soldier at the top in attitude of rest. That the subject will be taken in hand and energetically pushed we are assured by Mr. L. S. Butler, commander of the post, and it is to be expected that a soldier's monument will be in place in a few months.

BOXED WITH ICE.

The Ghastly Discovery Made in a Sonoratown House.

NEW BUILDINGS.

WHAT FIVE FIRMS OF ARCHITECTS ARE DOING.

A Sample Showing of the New Buildings of All Classes and Degrees of Costliness Now in Process of Erection.

A reporter of THE TIMES visited a number of architects yesterday afternoon, and, from the few who found time to give him news, gathered enough building notes to afford a two-column item:

KYSOR & MORGAN.

Huge Block for I. W. Hellman—Several Other Big Buildings.

Kysor & Morgan were found almost overwhelmed with work. Their largest building is the BLOCK FOR I. W. HELLMAN,

to be built on Main street, near Second, and extending back to Los Angeles. Its dimensions are 60x350, three stories on Main and four on Los Angeles. Approximate cost, $70,000. It will be occupied by Meyberg's Crystal Palace when completed, about October 1st.

The plans for the

have been drawn up by them. Its dimensions will be 60x165, three stories. It will be built of brick at a cost of about $36,000. The front on Spring will be ornamented in modern style. The plan of the interior will be as follows: Seventy-five feet of the front will be devoted to storerooms. The balance of the lower floor, 90x60, will be arranged as a gymnasium, with a 22-foot ceiling. Above the stores will be a number of anterooms and parlors for the club beside the two main entrances to the concert room, which will be 90x60 and extend to the roof with a twelve-foot gallery all about the walls facing the stage. The stage will be 30 feet deep and 60 feet wide, but the proscenium will only measure 30 feet. This stage will be fitted up with the best of scenery; and with a seating capacity of 1200, the hall will prove quite an addition to the concert halls of the city. It will be seated with opera chairs and arranged with an effort at the utmost convenience.

WHITTIER, FULLER & CO.

have secured this firm to draw the plans for a new 3-story business block, with a basement on Los Angeles street, between Requena and First streets. It will be 94x200 feet, and the approximate cost is $75,000. The store is to be used as a wholesale establishment for the firm in paints, oils, glass and other such materials. It is to be completed by the first of September. Under the topic of

RESIDENCES

Kysor & Morgan have a considerable budget to report.

For John Bryson, a 2-story frame, on the corner of Flower and Tenth streets, to cost $9000.

For A. Glassell, a 2-story frame, on Water street, to cost $6000.

For Dr. Utley, a 2-story frame, on Hope street, to cost $10,000. This will be a handsome structure, arranged according to the latest designs.

For W. Bryson, a 2-story frame, on Eleventh street, near Flower, to cost $5000.

For C. Johanson, a 2-story brick, on Wilmington street, to cost $6000.

For O. W. Childs, a 2-story frame, on Hill street, between Eleventh and Twelfth, to cost $10,000.

CAUKIN AND HAAS.

Important Improvements for the First National Bank.

The firm of Caukin & Haas, architects of the superb new Times Building, were called upon and kindly furnished the following items:

FIRST NATIONAL BANK IMPROVEMENTS.

The above bank intends to make some radical changes and improvements this season, as will be seen below. Architects Caukin & Haas have drawings nearly completed and are letting some portion of the work.

They have just closed a contract with McNeil & Urban, W. B. Wiltshire, agent, for a combination chrome steel and iron cell, one inch thick, with fire and burglar-proof doors, also fire-proof doors and vestibule for a book vault; all bolt work to be covered with plate-glass. The vault front and doors will be something new and unique, instead of the usual wagon-box painted fronts. They will be made from special designs by Caukin & Haas, simple and plain, finished in the natural iron and made rust-proof, by the Bower Barff process. The doors will be ornamented with heavy antique hinges, and the whole front will present what it really is, "a strong box." It is intended to extend the building back the full depth of the lot, adding about 30 feet to the present banking-room, and providing parlors for the bank's patrons, clerks, lunch, toilet rooms, etc., the second story of the present building to be added to the banking-room by removing the second-floor joists and partitions, making a room some 25 or more feet in height, finishing with a barrel vault and central skylight, enriched with handsome stained glass. Some 20 feet at front of second story will be reserved, and fitted up for directors' parlors. The book-keepers will be placed on a gallery over the vault and along the north wall, from which a narrow gallery will extend to the directors' parlors and balcony at front, all provided with elegant natural and antique cast and wrought-brass rails and geilles. New fittings are to be put in throughout, dado 7 feet 6 inches high, which, together with bank counter, paneled screen, etc., will be of mahogany. Counter screen decorated with stained and bevel-plate glass, antique wrought-iron geilles, finished in the natural iron. Walls and ceilings elegantly frescoed. It is intended, when this room is completed, to have the finest banking-room on this coast in either beauty, utility or convenience. Last but not least, a new stone-front is in contemplation, either granite or sandstone, which will fully form a proper introduction to the elegant banking-room behind it. Seven clerks and tellers will be provided for, besides the president and cashier, and each will be enclosed by wire cages.

J. C. PELTON.

William Niles's Fine Brick Block—Other Buildings.

The next office visited was that of J. C. Pelton, who found time to give in quite a long list of buildings soon to be erected. Mr. Pelton's office is so crowded with work, and himself so busy, that it was necessary to adjourn to the sidewalk in order to give the reporter the points while he waited for an appointment to visit some of his many buildings.

One of the largest business blocks Mr. Pelton has furnished plans for in the last few days is to be erected on the extension of Main street just below the Plaza. It will be a four-story brick, 80x130 feet, extending through to Upper Main street. It will be ornamented with pressed brick and white marble, after the Chicago style of architecture. The first floor will be used for stores, and the upper stories for warerooms. The cost will be about $20,000. It is to be completed in about three months.

THE KIRKWOOD COLLEGE

is an innovation in the style of school architecture. It will be built to afford a homeplace, and not in the stiff rectangular manner of public schools. It is to be erected on the Knob Hill tract, a two-story frame, to accommodate fifty boy pupils at private boarding. It is built for Prof. Fisher, who will establish a first-class boy school about the 1st of September.

SEVERAL RESIDENCES.

Mr. Pelton has completed the plans for four dwellings on Olive street, between First and Second, to be built in the colonial style, for H. F. Baer. They will contain ten rooms each, and the aggregate cost will be $15,000. They will be finished about the 1st of August.

Also, for Mrs. Dr. Griffin, a residence on Downey avenue and Workman streets, according to the newest design. It is to be a frame, with stone foundation, two stories high. Its cost, $10,000, indicates that no expense is spared upon its construction.

For H. F. Baer, a new residence on Olive street, between Second and Third, which has just been completed; cost $12,000.

For S. P. Olmstead, a residence on Olive street, between Seventh and Eighth, at a cost of $5000.

Mr. Pelton has also made the plans of six smaller cottages, averaging from $4000 to $6000. He is at work on plans for two big business blocks, which will be given to the public soon.

A. M. EDELMAN.

Judge Mappa's Franklin-street Block—Other Work.

The reporter found Mr. Edelman laboring with the pencil and rule, under the inconvenience of a "walk-out" on the part of his draughtsmen. They had received an offer of higher wages, and went out without warning. Mr. Edelman spoke of the occurrence as quite customary on the part of draughtsmen, who would give up a job without warning to go to another office for larger salary. A draughtsman gets from $3 to $5 a day, and the best workmen have no difficulty in commanding the latter figure. Mr. Edelman has been forced to send to San Francisco for men, so great is the demand.

Mr. Edelman is on the plans for a three-story brick on the south side of Franklin street, between Spring and Fort, where some residences now stand. It is to be erected by for business rooms and lodging flats. The dimensions are 62x61 feet and three stories in height. The cost will be $25,000.

RESIDENCES.

Judge D. P. Hatch will build a cottage, according to Edelman's plans, in the town of Garvanza, to cost $7000. It will be two stories and elegantly finished.

In East Los Angeles Mr. Summerfield will put up a cottage on Sichel street to cost $3300.

COSTERISAN & MERITHEW.

The Sepulveda Block—A Busy New Firm.

Costerisan & Merithew were the next gentlemen called upon. They were found as busy as any, although their office is comparatively a new addition to the city business. They were very obliging in their assistance to the reporter. They have in hand a large business block, on North Main street, just below the Plaza, to be known as

THE SEPULVEDA BLOCK.

It will be 45x82 feet, and two-stories high, running back to Olvera street. There will be two storerooms fronting on North Main street, and the upper floor will be devoted to lodging-rooms, which will also front on Olvera street, occupying both first and second floors. This new block is to cost about $8000, and will be completed in about two months and a half.

HESPERIA HOTEL.

These gentlemen are at work on the new hotel to be built in Hesperia. It is to be a two-story granite structure, built from stone quarried right in Hesperia. The dimensions are 124x86 feet. There are to be thirty-five rooms in all. A grand stone staircase ascends to the front entrance, which will be twenty-six feet wide. To the right of the main hall will be the office, and the parlor on the left. This hotel will cost nearly $25,000 and will be complete in every respect.

THE VICTOR HOTEL.

They have the plans, also, for a smaller hotel at Victor, a town a few miles north of Hesperia. It will contain about twenty rooms, and cost in the neighborhood of $9000.

SOME RESIDENCES.

Messrs. Costerisan & Merithew have plans for the following cottages:

For Mr. Riley, of the firm of Perry, Mott & Co., on the corner of Eleventh and Olive streets. It is a fine two-story frame of the latest design, with beautiful elevation views on the sides fronting on Olive and Eleventh streets. No expense has been spared on the ornamental work. For the ornamental and plate glass in the windows about $600 was expended. This house will cost from $8000 to $10,000.

For Mr. Harris, a cottage, on Sichel street, of frame, to cost about $5000.

For Mr. Webb, an elegant cottage on Figueroa street, to cost $3000.

For J. H. Claudis, a cottage on Ellis avenue, to cost $8000.

For T. H. Rhodes, a cottage in the Bonnie Brae tract for $2500.

They also furnished the plans for a tenement-house on Alameda street, near Marchessault, which is about completed, for Mr. L. N. Breed. It is 144 feet frontage, only one story, and of brick. Its cost was in the neigborhood of $3500.

The above is a list of what could be gathered from five offices. Taking the number in the city at thirty-four, according to the new directory, it was the reporter's opinion that if he visited them all he would become overloaded, so he continues the task until another day. There is certainly more building in prospective in this city than has been dreamed of by the most knowing.

HYDE PARK!

Look where you will in the vicinity of the city of Los Angeles, in search either of lots or acre property, for charming homes, and the best judgments will be convinced at a glance as to the difficulty of finding a location for a town so beautiful, such pure and bracing air, and smooth, rich lands as characterizes Hyde Park. This splendid townsite is located on the line of the California Central, of the A., T. & S. F. system, which is to connect Los Angeles with the new harbor at La Ballona, and is distant 7½ miles from the center of the city; a midway town between the city and the harbor. Trains are to be running through the tract by July next, when great business activity all along the line will be the order of the day. Liberal-sized lots, 60x180 feet, fronting on sixty-foot avenues, are offered and being taken rapidly at $100 each; $40 cash, balance $10 per month, without interest. Such terms give the present purchasers a good opportunity to make money in the rising values that must follow the effects of the harbor and railroad developments. Particularly desirable are the 5 and 10 acre villa lots surrounding the town. Conveyances leave the office at 1:30 p.m., to show parties the beautiful property.

A LOTTERY CRANK.

A MAN WHO THINKS HE HAS DRAWN A BIG PRIZE.

And That Some One Is Trying to Beat Him Out of It—He Gets in a Row Over It and Comes Out Second Best.

Some time last November one Mendelsohn, living near San Pedro, invested in a Havana Lottery ticket. He held on to it, hoping for luck, till a short time ago, when he got an idea some way that his ticket had drawn a big prize. He was advised to send the ticket to some person who would find out about it, and accordingly his employer mailed the ticket to Mr. Harris, in this city, with instructions to ascertain if it had drawn a prize or not.

The pasteboard remained here for some time, when Mendelsohn became impatient about it, and his employer wrote to Harris to send the ticket to Mendelsohn. Through some mistake it was sent to another man by the same name, who does lottery business with Harris. A day or two since the San Pedro Mendelsohn appeared with an order from his employer to deliver the card to him. When Mr. Harris attempted to explain matters, Mendelsohn became much excited and accused them of trying to rob him. He went out and got a lawyer, who came with a like demand, and when Harris told him the ticket was not here, but he would get it back and return it as soon as possible to the right party, the lawyer went away and sent a notice through the postoffice to return the ticket within a certain time, or an action would be brought.

The ticket came back next day, and ten minutes after its receipt Mendelsohn's employer who had sent the ticket to Harris and afterwards the order for its return, came in. The ticket, order and lawyer's letter were turned over to him and he went away. Mendelsohn came to the store three or four times, and Harris told him what had been done with the ticket, but he seemed insane with the idea that he was being robbed. Yesterday morning he came, and Harris ordered him out of the store, and when he refused to go, came out from behind the counter and assisted the lottery-ticket buyer out on to the sidewalk. In the squabble Mendelsohn's fingers were cut by some glass or sharp iron, and he went to the Deputy District Attorney and wanted a warrant issued for the arrest of Harris, who, he said, had cut him; but on hearing the statement of some other parties, the warrant was refused, unless he would bring witnesses who would testify in his behalf, which he has so far failed to do.

STREET PAVING.

The Board of Public Works Considers It Further.

The Board of Public Works met in their room, at the City Hall, yesterday morning, and indulged in a general talk on paving and the amount of the bond to be given by the contractor. The board finally decided to fix the bond for the faithful performance of the work at $75,000. It was decided to incorporate in the contract that the asphalt pavement shall be rolled with a roller weighing not less than 250 pounds to the lineal inch. Also that the price for repairing the pavement cut by excavating shall not be more that 26½ cents per foot of pavement cut. Contractor Shearer said he wanted to know whether it was a fixed thing that he should have the contract for granite, or whether there was a chance for the property-holders to change their minds and decide on asphalt pavement. He asked the question for the reason that his bonds for granite had about run out and he did not know whether he could have them renewed or not. He was informed that final arrangments would be made on next Monday. The citizens might change their minds, but the board did not think they would. Adjourned.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

The New Directory Tells What's in Several.

Looking over the new directory one is somewhat struck by the number of like names that are grouped together in different places.

The "first man," Adam (sometimes with an "s"), comes in 37 times. The Bells appear 28 times in regular order.

When we look for the different people with colored names we find only 5 Blacks, but there are exactly 100 Browns or Brownes, 30 Greens and 26 Grays. The Whites claim 49 names, two of whom have the same initials, "C. H." There is an H. A., an H. H., and an H. M., 4 Johns, and 14 whose first initial is J.

The Davis and Davies families make a fair showing, with exactly the same number, 49.

Harris comes in 37 times, while Johnsons and Johnstons number 93.

Jones only appears 52 times and Levy 24. There are 14 Days, but only 8 Knights. Twenty-seven Martins are found, while there are 54 Millers, 33 Robinsons, and of Schmidts, and Schmiths, and Schmits, and Smiths, there are only 145.

A LIVELY LOCATION.

The Foot of First Street—New Buildings and Tracks.

A TIMES reporter dropped down to the new Santa Fé Depot, grounds yesterday afternoon, and found everything in a state of lively activity. An army of men and teams were busily engaged in different lines of work. Contractor E. C. Burlingame has received orders to finish all the grading by the 1st of next month, and, with his usual energy, he proposes to accomplish it, if there are men and teams enough to be had in Los Angeles to do the work. He has engaged every available team to do a share, and First street is full of wagons and carts, hauling the dirt needed for filling.

The immense freight depot, 600 feet long, is assuming shape, and the temporary passenger depot is nearly completed. Tracklaying is going on at a rapid rate, and the sound of numerous hammers and saws make music the day long. Mr. Shepherd, the engineer in charge, has all he can attend to, as the company want to be doing business in their new quarters by the 1st of June.

Departures by Steamer.

TWO FRIENDS MEET.

"Hello! old fellow. What have you been doing to yourself? You look like a subject for the undertaker," exclaimed the man on the right.

"I have been taking mercury and potash mixtures until they have nearly ruined me," squeaked the old man on crutches.

"And I," said the other, "have been taking the genuine Swift's Specific, which has built me up from the first dose."

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC.

Nature's own remedy, made from roots gathered from the forests of Georgia. The method by which it is made was obtained by a half-breed from the Creek Indians, who inhabited a certain portion of Georgia, which was communicated to one of the early settlers, and thus the formula has been handed down to the present day. The demand has been increasing until a $100,000 laboratory is now necessary to supply the trade. A foreign demand has been created, and enlarged facilities will be necessary to meet it. This great

The Park Sidewalks.

Among the needed improvements which the city ought to make is the laying of a pavement along the fronts of the Sixth-street City Park. There is hardly a dustier spot within the limits of the city than the so-called sidewalks about this park. The dust, too, is of the most disagreeable character, light and fine as powder, agitated by the lightest wind and the most careful footfall of the pedestrian. Council should set a good example to private citizens, and improve those long-neglected walks by laying some kind of clean, durable pavement.

Call a Halt.

Enterprise and progress such as mark Los Angeles are admirable things and pleasant ones. There is a zest in life in a "booming" city. But sometimes even enterprise and progress overreach themselves, and do detriment which cannot be readily undone. While universal discussion is centering upon the paving of our streets, another matter of hardly less importance to the beauty and healthfulness of the city is sadly neglected—the matter of sidewalks and shade. Los Angeles will never be a business city in the sense that New York is a business city. Every gift of nature has appointed it the loveliest residence city in the world. Good climate is not an essential for manufactures, but it is ess ential to complete physical comfort; and that which is attracting to this point thousands of wealthy people yearly is its desirability as a home. For this reason and others, Los Angeles will always be primarily a city of homes—like Louisville, Cleveland, and others of the most favored cities of the East—in which manufactures, however extensive, will play a secondary part.

The attractions of a city for a home depend upon nothing more than upon its sidewalks and its trees, particularly the latter. Good sidewalks we are getting with considerable rapidity, several miles having been laid in the last six months. Unfortunately and shamefully, however, we are getting the sidewalks a good deal at the expense of what few trees we have. It seems to be deemed necessary, whenever a cement sidewalk is laid, to sacrifice first the noble pepper trees along the curb; and the result is already that there is no longer a finely shaded street of any consequence in the city proper. In place of the graceful peppers which two years ago made Fort street a real delight, we have now a stretch of blinding sidewalks, with here and there a lonely tree. Of course in the very business center, trees cannot well be tolerated; but the trees have been sacrificed in scores of places where there will not be a business building in years. It is a wanton and needless shame, and one which the perpetrators will sometime regret. It is time to call a halt, both for the sake of the looks of the city—which must form a considerable portion of its capital—and for the welfare of the citizens. It does not require an expert in oculistic science to foretell what will become of our A leño eyes, after a generation or two of blinking at the bare, blazing-white sidewalks now in vogue. Some shade is an absolute hygienic necessity in a climate as nearly cloudless as this. And on this point, the City Fathers might take two good steps. Let them stop the indiscriminate slaughter of trees, and let them require all artificial stone sidewalks, hereafter to be laid, to be given some dull, sober color, which will not so villianously reflect the sunlight, and weaken every eye which gazes upon them. The game is by no means too trifling to be worthy of legislative interference.

THE SUPREME COURT.

Two Decisions of Interest to Los Angeles.

Every one who was in Los Angeles a year and a half ago remembers the awful muddle about John Hall's plans for the County Jail. There were charges of lobbying and improper use of money, in which the architect and two well-known citizens were alleged to be implicated. The Supervisors, in view of the muddle, rejected Hall's plans. He sued for his pay, and when the Superior Court decided against him, he carried the case to the Supreme Court, which has just rendered the following decision, knocking out Mr. Hall's hopes:

JOHN HALL VS. THE COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES—No. 11,833—Department Two. Filed May 18, 1887.

The demurrer to the complaint was properly sustained. The plaintiff had no claim against the defendant, the County of Los Angeles, according to his own pleading, save and except one based upon the condition that the Board of Supervisors of that county should accept the bid of some "reliable party" for the building of a jail.

They refused, in the exercise of a proper discretion, as the complaint shows, to open or accept any of the bids tendered, on the ground that the plaintiff had been a party to certain improper acts in getting his plans conditionally accepted; thus the conditions upon which alone he had, or could have had, any claim for compensation for his alleged services, never happened, not because of any fault of the Board of Supervisors, but for the reason that they, in the exercise of a rightful discretion, refused to entertain or accept bids which they believed were based upon plans tainted with fraud, with which the plaintiff appeared to them to be in collusion.

As guardian of the best interests of their company they could not have properly acted otherwise, and the judgment should be affirmed. FOOTE, C.

We concur: BELCHER, C. C.
HAYNE, C.

For the reasons given in the foregoing opinion, the judgment is affirmed.
THE COURT.

Hon. Stephen M. White was attorney for the county in this case.

THE FRESHET CRANKS.

Every one is also more or less familiar with the claims of Alfred Moore and others, for damages by reason of overflow. These gentlemen bought cheap land, and builded themselves homes in the bed of the Los Angeles river, or the next thing to it. When the rains descended and the floods came, a year ago last February, these bottom-dwellers were drowned out by the raging river. Moore brought suit for damages against the city, claiming that the city should have held the river down. From the decision of the Superior Court he appealed to the Supreme Court, which has just filed the following decision, already briefly alluded to in our telegraph dispatches.

ALFRED MOORE VS. THE CITY OF LOS ANGELES—No. 11,786—Department Two. Filed May 18, 1887.

The plaintiff sued the city of Los Angeles for damages to his property, lying within its corporate limits, alleging that the same was caused by the defendant in failing to use proper care in preventing an overflow of the waters of the Los Angeles River. The bed of the river, and the right to divert its waters and sell them to its citizens, as stated in the complaint, belonged to the city.

The pleading was demurred to, the demurrer sustained, and from the judgment then rendered this appeal is presented.

We do not agree with the plaintiff in his contention that the city, incorporated as it is, should be held responsible for the damages he declared his property to have sustained from the overflow of the river, caused by a sudden flood of water. The incorporated city was not responsible as a private corporation, from the fact that it owned the bed of the river, and the right to sell the water therefrom to its citizens, and there is nothing contained in its charter which could impose such an obligation upon it as the duty of protecting private property from sudden and unlooked-for floods, which might at any time fill the stream to overflowing.

The judgment should be affirmed.
FOOTE, C.

We concur: HAYNE, C.,
BELCHER, C. C.

For the reason given in the foregoing opinion, the judgment is affirmed.
THE COURT.

NABBED AGAIN.

Two Old Birds in the Toils for Smoking Opium.

Last night, between 8 and 9 o'clock, Officer Fred Smith, who is ever on the alert for such things, became convinced that some cussedness was being concocted in the house of a Chinese doctor on Arcadia street. Accordingly, he and Officer Moore began a cautious investigation of the premises. It time they ascertained that some "fiends" were inside engaged in smoking the deadly drug, opium. The place was well guarded by Chinamen, and the officers were obliged to use the utmost care. They tried the front door, but could not enter, and after waiting and waiting for two and a half hours, they made a dash at the back door, when a Chinaman came out and reached the inside room, where they captured Johnnie Abbott, a notorious opium fiend, and Johnnie Maloney, "the champion pill-roller of the coast," with the whole outfit. They had seen Maloney "hitting the pipe" through a window and when they entered Abbott was engaged the same way. They were taken to the station and each deposited $50 cash bail for his appearance when wanted. The outfit was complete, including an inlaid pipe with five bowls, lamp, two boxes containing the stuff and a head-rest. The Chinese doctor will be arrested today for keeping a "joint."

Increased Demand for California Wines in Europe.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25. — [Special.] Chief Viticultural Officer Wheeler is in receipt of a report from France on the prospects of the vintage of that country for this season. No damaging frosts or hailstorms have occurred there, and the outlook is favorable. The political turmoil is unsettling the market. The use of beet and potato spirit with which to strengthen and fortify their wines is rapidly increasing, notwithstanding the well-founded prejudice against it. The latter fact will probably result in increasing the popularity and demand for California wines, not only in France but in England and Belgium.

Immense Shipments of California Fruits to the East—Another Case of Smallpox at San Francisco—Threatened Tie-up of Vessels at the Bay.

By Telegraph to The Times.

ILWACO (Wash.), May 25.—[By the Associated Press.] The fishery feud has resulted in the killing of one man and the serious wounding of another in the streets of Ilwaco. Last night A. E. King, Al Green and Archie Ross, owners of traps, went out to watch a lot of web, newly-tarred and drying on the flats. In the darkness they saw the dim outlines of two men. They ordered the intruders to stop, but they fled. King, Ross and Green followed, when suddenly from several directions out of the darkness came the reports of several shotguns. King fell, wounded in the neck and wrist. Ross fell, pierced by six balls. He lingered in great agony and died at 2 o'clock this morning. Green escaped unhurt.

This morning a surgeon from Ft. Canby removed the bullet from King's neck. He will probably recover. The Sheriff of the county has been sent for. A dispatch has been sent to Gov. Semple asking assistance.

Another attack is feared tonight. An organization is preparing to meet the marauders. It is thought that some of them reside in Ilwaco. One house is under espionage.

ANOTHER VERSION OF THE AFFAIR.

PORTLAND (Or.), May 25.—A prominent lady of this city received a letter this evening from a relative at Ilwaco, which, if correct, puts a very different phase on the matter. She says that the guards were placed by Fred Coldbert, in his absence, to protect the drying tarred webb from possible mischief, and that "these guards were the men that Ross, King and Green saw, and it was by these guards that the shots were fired that killed Ross and wounded King." The letter concludes by saying that it appears that had they stayed away no trouble would have resulted; that each party by mistake thought the other composed of marauders, and that the whole thing was simply a dreadful mistake, the darkness making it impossible for them to see that they were friends and not enemies.

HONG DI.

Chinese Consul Bee Says That the Mongolian's Story Is True.

SACRAMENTO, May 25.—[By the Associated Press.] An Oroville special to the Bee says that Hong Di is still in jail there. The Sheriff arrived last night to take him to Colusa. The prisoner has sued out a writ of habeas corpus, returnable before Judge Freer at 10 o'clock on Thursday morning. Acting on the advice of his lawyer, the Chinaman refuses to talk.

In an interview with a Bee reporter today Chinese Consul Bee, who goes to Oroville to befriend Hong Di, said that he heard of Weaver's intimacy with Mrs. Billiou three weeks ago, but thought Hong Di would kill himself, and so it would not be necessary to make the facts public. Consul Bee is satisfied that the story is true, and also that the Chinaman will be given a fair show.

CONSUL BEE'S SIDE.

SACRAMENTO, May 25.—Bee, the Chinese Consul at San Francisco, came up from San Francisco this morning on his way to Oroville. A reporter talked with the Consul, shortly after his arrival, regarding the murder of Mrs. Billiou by the Chinaman Hong Di, now in the hands of the Butte authorities. "My business in Oroville," said Col. Bee, "is to get at the truth of Hong Di's part in the killing of Mrs. Billiou. We showed our good faith in wishing to assist justice by offering a reward of $400 for his capture, and by keeping a detective searching for him ever since. We don't want to have him taken to Colusa, for we fear that he would never reach jail. That is probably the reason why the writ of habeas corpus has been taken out in Oroville. I can't say who procured it for the Chinaman, but presume it may have been obtained through the Sheriff, who found that Hong Di would be lynched if he undertook to take him to Colusa. I believe now that Hong Di never intended to shoot the lady at all. Tonight I will get the whole truth, for I seldom fail to get it from Chinese who know who we are."

THE WRIT DISMISSED.

OROVILLE, May 25.—The habeas corpus in the Hong Di case was heard at 8 tonight. The writ was dismissed and the defendant remanded. He will be taken tomorrow to Colusa for trial.

Threatened Strike of Marine Engineers—More Smallpox.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—[By the Associated Press.] The Marine Engineers' Association held a meeting last night, at which it was decided that all steam schooners on the coast must employ one engineer at $120 per month, an assistant engineer at $90 and two firemen. In accordance with this the engineers on the Celia and Greenwood, the only two steam schooners now in port, struck this afternoon on the owners of the vessels, refusing to comply with their demands. As other vessels arrive in port the men will be ordered out. As all engineers in port belong to the union the result will be the tying-up of the vessels. The owners seem not inclined to yield.

The Chicago Market for California Fruits Advancing.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.— [Special.] The Call's Chicago special tonight says: Messina and other foreign oranges on the market are getting scarce, and there are but few more coming. In consequence, California fruit is assuming a firmer tone, and it is thought that prices will advance. The following are the ruling prices for California oranges: Bright Riversides, good to fancy, $3 to $4; San Bernardino, $3 to $4; Santa Ana, $2.75 to $3.25; St. Michael paper-rinds, $3 to $3.50; Orange, $2.50 to $2.75; Los Angeles, $2.50 to $2.75; navels, $3 to $4.50; San Gabriel, $2.50 to $3; blood, fancy, $4 to 6; culls, $3. California lemons are slow of sale at $2.50 per box. RUS.

Floquet Refuses to Help Grevy Out of His Ministerial Mess—Strikers' Riots in Belgium—Notes

By Telegraph to The Times.

PARIS, May 25.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Ferry and Bayron de Mackan, leader of the Right in the Chamber of Deputies, visited President Grevy today in relation to the recalling of M. Floquet to form a Cabinet. They declared that the creation of a Floquet Ministry would injure the foreign relations of France. Floquet still continues his negotiations with the Opportunists, who persist in their opposition to the retention of Boulanger in the Cabinet. Rouviere especially refuses to accept the portfolio of Minister of Finance, if Gen. Boulanger is retained, and, if he persists in his refusal, it may lead to Floquet's abandoning the task of forming a new Ministry.

A NIGHT OF HORROR.

The Opera Comique at Paris Burned.

A Score of Persons, Mostly Performers, Perish in the Flames.

Many of the Audience Injured by Jumping from Windows.

The Exact Number of the Dead Not Known—Appalling Scenes and Incidents—A Noted Singer Among the Dead—How a Panic was Averted.

By Telegraph to The Times.

PARIS, May 25.—[By Cable and the Associated Press.] The Opera Comique took fire this evening. The whole building is now wrapped in flames. Fourteen persons who jumped from windows are dead. Forty-three persons were injured. Probably many were crushed to death in the gallery. At present this is uncertain.

LATER ACCOUNTS.

PARIS, May 26.—The fire broke out during the first act of the opera Mignon. One of the wings caught fire from a gas jet. The entire stage was immediately enveloped in flames. The fire soon spread to the whole house. Mme. Merguiller and MM. Jasquin and Bernard were on the stage when the fire broke out. All the actors ran out in stage costumes. The audience got out easily, but the gas was turned off before all left the building, and it is feared that some were left in the upper tiers. The roof soon fell in, sending showers of sparks as far as the Place de la Bourse. With the exception of Mme. Sellier, who perished, all the actors escaped, though a number were seriously injured.

FIVE BODIES TERRIBLY BURNED

were conveyed to the National Library. The body of a woman clasped a little child in its arms. The money receipts were saved and deposited in the Gaulois office. The firemen showed the greatest courage. MM. Goblet and Thibeaun were on the spot soon after the fire started, and remained throughout with the fire officials. The Military Club rendered great assistance in the work of resisting the crowding of people toward the building.

NINETEEN DEAD.

Nineteen persons are known to be dead. Many there supposed that an artificial fire apparatus, which had been placed in position, in readiness for the burning of the palace, in the second act, rolled down from its place, near the roof, and exploded below. Women, half-clad and carrying their costumes, fled from the stage screaming. The supers and members of the chorus were terrified, and some of the latter fled with nothing on but tights. The flames spread with rapidity.

In fifteen minutes the stage was a vast furnace. Several actors escaped by climbing to the roof on the side of the Rue Merivante, where they were rescued by the fire-escapes. M. Jasquin implored the audience to remain seated until the exits were opened, which they did. If they had made a rush for the doors the loss of life would have been something terrible. The police outside were unable to restrain the crowd, who besieged the building inquiring for friends, until a military cordon was formed. One man who wanted to rescue his brother and sister and menaced with a stick people who stopped him from rushing into the blazing building. The scene outside was of the wildest excitement. The flames frightened horses in the surrounding streets, causing them to plunge and rear. The flames shot out of every window, forcing the crowd into the narrow streets, where the crush was terrific. A figuarante says that there were 150 persons on the stage when the fire broke out. She heard the glass breaking, but told the others not to mind it. But while she was speaking a column of flames broke through the wings with a roar, and all rushed pell-mell from the stage. Many policemen are injured. It is still unknown how many persons were unable to escape from the doomed building.

Only a fortnight ago M. Steinakers called attention in the Chamber of Deputies to the dangerous condition of the Opera Comique, the oldest theater in Paris. Figaro also called attention to the same thing. After the recent twelve-hour benefit performance the audience were delayed a few minutes by the density of smoke and insufficient light. A director of the Soleil with his wife and two children escaped without injury. The killed included four firemen. There was not a frantic rush in the theater, but it is believed that the staircase became blocked. An iron curtain was lowered in front of the stage. This prevented the fire spreading immediately to the auditorium, and allowed the audience to escape. The men, who carried away the money-chest report that when they left the auditorium was empty. The fire brigade distinguished themselves. Many had narrow escapes. Most of the casualties, so far reported, were due to nervousness. Many persons, who were unable to trust themselves, of the cornice around the building, jumped off in terror. One woman coolly walked around the cornice, when the flames were bursting out above her, until she reached the fire-escape. The victims were almost all singers. The streets in the vicinity of the burned theatre were crowded until an early hour this morning. Doctors attended many persons who had been bruised.

TO WALK THE NARROW LEDGE

Sewell, solicitor of the British Embassy, said that the audience showed great calmness when the alarm was given.

Foreign Bondholders Camp on Their Trail

And Ask the Courts to Make Them Fork Over Five Millions.

Editor O'Brien Denies That He Has Refused Parliamentary Honors.

Having Taken a Good Rest at Niagara Falls, the Agitator Starts for Montreal to Resume the Fray—D. O. Mills's Gift to New York.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The Commercial Advertiser says: "A suit involving $5,000,000 is about to be commenced against Jay Gould and Russell Sage as trustees of the consolidated mortgage on the Kansas Pacific Railway, by the foreign holders of bonds issued under the mortgage. Certain facts were elicited during the recent examination of the affairs of the trustees by the Pacific Railway Commission, which have long been suspected by the interested parties, but which they were unable to prove. Now all is made clear, and the suit will be the result."

It is stated that, in 1879, when the plan to consolidate the Kansas Pacific and Union Pacific roads was about to be carried into effect, Sidney Dillon, by a preconcerted arrangement, had an attorney bring an action against Gould and Sage, as trustees of the great Kansas Pacific blanket mortgage, to release 30,000 shares of Denver Pacific stock from the lien of the mortgage. This stock was worth $100 per share at par, but at this time was of no great market value. In this unique case, in place of the ordinary legal delays, the answer was served on the following day, and application was made to Judge Donohue for the appointment of P. H. Ruggles as referee, and within the next two or three days the case was called for trial, which was had before the referee, during which Dillon testified that the Denver Pacific stock was worth about $300,000 or $300,000, though its face value was $3,000,000. The report was confirmed and judgment was entered, ordering the $3,000,000 worth of stock released from the lien of the mortgage, and transferred to Gould and Sage as individuals. The whole suit, involving so large a sum of money, was commenced and ended inside of one week. On the same day, or day after, the stock was transferred, the consolidation was consummated, and shortly after Denver Pacific stock became worth its face value. Had it remained under the lien of the consolidated mortgage each bond issued would have been worth its pro rata share of $3,000,000 more than it is today. This, with interest, would be about $5,000,000. It is to secure the proportionate share of this that the foreign bondholders propose to bring their suit, claiming a wrongful deprivation, and that a court of justice was improperly used to give the color of legality to a robbery. The case bids fair to be one of the great law suits of the day.

The D. O. Mills Training School for Nurses in New York.

NEW YORK, May 25.—[By the Associated Press.] A new training school for male nurses is to be built on the grounds of Bellevue Hospital, under direction of the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. The old building, in which was the Wood Museum of Anatomy, is now being torn down, and a new structure that will cost $75,000 to $80,000 will be built at once, and will be completed in the fall or winter. Plans for the building, and the name of the donor, D. O. Mills, were received by the County Commissioners on Saturday last. The Commissioners received from W. H. Osborn a letter offering this building for male nurses, but not mentioning the name of the giver. President Porter states that there would be accommodation in the building for about fifty nurses, and while it will be under the supervision of the Commissioners, it will probably be under the direct control of trustees appointed for that purpose.

EDITOR O'BRIEN.

He Denies That He Declined a Seat in Parliament.

NIAGARA FALLS (N. Y.), May 25.—[By the Associated Press.] Editor O'Brien rested comfortably last night, and reports himself feeling considerably better today. He was shown a dispatch, containing a statement of the London Standard to the effect that he has declined the seat in Parliament to which he was recently elected, and he was asked if the statement was accurate. Mr. O'Brien replied that the statement was wholly unauthorized, and that he had neither accepted nor declined the seat, and will take no action until first he has a consultation with Mr. Parnell.

O'Brien left for Montreal at 4 o'clock.

Proposed Tunnel Under the Hudson.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The Pennsylvania Railroad finds it necessary to reach New York city by other means than ferries, as the New York Central secures most of the passenger trade. So it is about to build a tunnel under the Hudson River at a cost for tunnel and terminal of $11,000,000. It will require two years to complete the work. The New York terminal will be under Washington square. There are to be two parallel tunnels, one for trains going each way.

The Baptist Publication Society.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 25.—The American Baptist Publication Society held its sixty-third annual meeting this morning. Dr. Goodman presented the report of the board of managers. He called attention to a supplemental report announcing a defalcation of over $30,450 by two book-keepers, and the subsequent recovery of part of the money. The shortage has been reduced to $22,000, and possibly may be reduced to $20,000. The report stated that gross receipts for the year in all departments were $624,000. The business shows an increase of $48,000 over last year.

Unfortunate Operatives.

CHORNTON (R. I.), May 25.—The British Hosiery Company has posted a notice of a probability of a reduction to half the present force or a possible shut-down. The concern imported from England plant and operatives in 1884 to work under the advantages of the protective tariff. The notice spreads dismay among the operatives, few of whom have saved enough to enable them to return with their families to England.

Killed in a Courtroom.

ROCKVILLE (Mo.), May 25.—Last Tuesday a man called at Mr. Anderson's residence and asked for a glass of water, which was given him by Jennie, the daughter of Mr. Anderson. When she came near him he suddenly seized and chloroformed her, and while under the influence of the drug she was outraged. A search resulted in the arrest of John Vanderburg. At the preliminary hearing yesterday Judge Just announced that the prisoner would be held in $10,000 bail, when a shot rang out, followed by two more. There was a scamper for the street and when quiet was restored the prisoner was dead. No one knows who fired the shots, but as two of Anderson's boys were in the courtroom they were put under arrest.

OUTDOOR SPORTS.

The Latonia Races—Libretto Injured—Merry Hampton Captures the English Derby—Games on the Ball Field.

By Telegraph to The Times.

CINCINNATI, May 25.—[By the Associated Press.] At Latonia today the weather was fine, the track in first-class condition, and there was an excellent attendance.

One mile and one-half furlong—Warsign won, Alfred second, Uncle Dan third. Time, 1:54.

For maiden 2-year-olds, five furlongs—Cruiser won, Ocean Wave second, Bob Thomas third. Time, 1:07.

For 3-year-olds, seven furlongs—Clarion won, Ninda second, Katie A third. Time, 1:32¼.

Three-year-olds and upwards, nine furlongs—Jacobin won, Kaloolah second, O'Fallon third. Time, 1:57½.

For 3-year-olds, one mile—While at the post Fugato delivered a vicious kick on the upper left leg of Libretto, winner of Monday's Derby, and the injured colt was withdrawn from the race. Unit won, Pearl L second, Fugato third. Time, 1:46½. The accident to Libretto is said by F. B. Harper, his owner, to consist of a flesh wound only. While he does not regard it as permanently serious, it is sufficient to put the horse out of training and will disqualify him from running at the St. Louis Derby, in which he is entered.

THE ENGLISH DERBY.

LONDON, May 25.—Vast crowds left London today for Epsom Downs to witness the great race for the Derby stakes. The course was slightly heavy. Baron was the favorite in the betting, while the odds were 11 to 1 against Merry Hampton. A capital start was made, Porcelain and the Shannon colt first showed in advance, with Aintree and Eiridspord following and the Baron and Merry Hampton coming next. Porcelain soon dropped back, but the Shannon colt kept the lead. Martley was last. At the mile post Eiridspord drew up and ran level with the Shannon colt and he was joined directly afterwards by Blanchard and Grandison and the Baron. The pace was too hot for the Shannon colt and he gave way. Aintree was now at the tail of the string and Blanchard and Eiridspord were three lengths ahead of the Baron and Merry Hampton. On entering the straight Cannon rode the Baron vigorously, and Blanchard and Eiridspord very soon fell back beaten. Merry Hampton then took the lead. The Baron ran with gameness, but failed to reach Merry Hampton, who won by five lengths, with Martley two lengths behind the Baron. Aintree finished fourth and Eiridspord fifth. The Shannon colt came in last.

Merry Hampton was ridden by Watts, the Baron by Cannon and Martley by Barrett. The last betting was 11 to 1 against Merry Hampton, 5 to 4 against Eiridspord, 12 to 1 against Aintree, 22 to 1 against Blanchard, 50 to 1 against Grandison, 50 to 1 against Porcelain, 100 to 1 against Savelle, 200 to 1 against Consolide, 200 to 1 against the Shannon colt.

Immense Shipments.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—[By the Associated Press.] A carload of cherries, apricots and gooseberries left Sacramento for Chicago today. Most of the cherries were shipped from the Vaca, Napa and Santa Clara valleys. This is unprecedented, considering the stage of the season. On the California Pacific and Vaca Valley lines there has been a rush of this kind of fruit at junction points, and trains have been delayed in consequence. It is declared that fruit-growers will get these shipments into Chicago and New York at less rates than during any previous season. Traffic agents say that the volume of fruit business on the transcontinental lines will be far greater than last year, and there will be a larger number of through points reached.

A Brakeman's Horrible Death.

SALT LAKE CITY, May 25.—William Openshaw, 23 years old, a brakeman on the Utah and Nevada, was signaled by the engineer to fasten a loose board on a flat car this morning as the train was going to Garfield. Openshaw ran along the top of the cars, coming to the flat car on which the lumber was, just as the board fell off. One end struck the ground, and the other flew over and hit Openshaw in the back, cutting him open and knocking him under the train, where he was mangled and ground to fragments. The body was brought back to town in a blanket. He leaves a wife and one child.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—[Special.] The marriage of Richard Nixon to Miss Agnes M. Dolph, daughter of Senator Dolph, of Oregon, took place this evening at the Church of the Epiphany. The church was crowded with people of social prominence. Among those present were Senators Sherman, Cockrell and Blair, Chief Justice Waite, Justice Miller, foreign ministers and attachés of their legations, and also many of the most prominent officers of the army and navy. The chancel of the church was decorated with flowers and plants. A reception after the wedding ceremony was held at Senator Dolph's residence, in Lafayette square, and was a very brilliant affair. The wedding presents were numerous and handsome. Mr. and Mrs. Nixon left on the midnight train for a bridal tour of three weeks in the East. They will stay over at Baltimore tonight. Mr. Nixon is correspondent of the New Orleans Times-Democrat.

THE NATIONAL DRILL.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—[By the Associated Press.] The parade of troops today for review by the President has afforded the first opportunity for seeing at once the entire body of those forming the encampment, and was an unqualified success. The arrangements for the parade were reasonably complete, and were carried out almost to the allotted second, and without apparent hitch or break. The head of the column started from the camp up Seventeenth street promptly at noon, and reached the stand erected for the President and invited guests ten minutes later. The reviewing stand had seats for nearly 300 persons, and was filled without crowding. With the President were Mrs. Cleveland, Mrs. Welsh and Mrs. Massey and Col. and Mrs. Lamont. Gen. Sheridan and several members of his staff in full uniform were their escorts. When the right of the column approached the President stepped upon the dais, and in response to the salute of the passing commands removed his hat and bowed. The wide, smoothly-paved avenues selected for the line of march afforded ample room for display by company front, and thousands of strangers, with half the population of the city, filled the windows and lined the pavements along the entire route.

INTERSTATE COMMISSION.

A System of Procedure Before It Adopted.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—[By the Associated Press.] The Interstate Commerce Commission has adopted rules to govern practice before it. They provide that when the commission is in Washington at the morning sessions, petitions, complaints, etc., will be heard. Petitions for authority to charge less for longer than for shorter distances must be made by an agent or officer of the applying company in a legally attested application, setting forth the measure of relief desired, the facts upon which it is based, and the points at and between which it is desired, and that notice thereof must be published in, at least, two newspapers, of general circulation, on its line, setting forth the relief sought for, at least ten days prior to the presentation of the petition. The commission will then appoint a time and place for hearing testimony for and against the petition. Complaints against common carriers of discrimination, or other violation of the act, must be attested like petitions, setting forth the facts complained of and copies enough thereof must be furnished to allow of one being sent to each common carrier complained of, and must have the address of the complainant or his counsel indorsed thereon. The carrier complained of must make a verified answer inside of twenty days, unless otherwise prescribed by the commission, the original to be filed with the commission in Washington and a copy sent to the complainant; or if he shall make satisfaction in the meantime he may state it in his answer. If the carrier complained of considers the complaint insufficient to show a breach of the law, instead of answering he may notify the complainant of his readiness to have the case heard on the complaint, in which case the facts stated in the complaint will be taken as admitted, and the commission will fix the time and place for a hearing, which will be at its office in Washington, unless otherwise ordered. In case of failure to answer the commission will take proof and make an order in the premises.

BATTERY AND LARCENY.

Another Row in a Notorious House—The Result.

Warrants were sworn out yesterday charging Jane Doe with larceny and Myrtle McDonald with battery. Deputy Constable Joe Del Valle brought the parties into court, where both plead not guilty. The last named woman is the keeper of the bawdy house on Alameda street, and Jane Doe turned out to be Edith Thornton, one of the inmates. She is a plump, good-looking brunette with dimpled cheeks, but a devilish eye. The complainant in the case was one Charles Reavis, a chap from San Bernardino, with a hang-dog countenance and a Portuguese or Italian accent, so vile as to make it almost impossible to understand him.

He claimed to have been robbed of $10 by Edith and battered by Myrtle McDonald Tuesday night in the bawdy house. He exhibited marks made, he said, by the woman hitting him with a bottle and a cane. She knew nothing about it, and claimed to have been in another room all the time. The battery case was continued till today to secure further testimony. In the larceny case the girl said the man gave her the money and then wanted it back again. On the testimony adduced this case was dismissed. The defendant, Edith Thornton, was at one time a waitress in the Pico House, and appeared to be somewhat ashamed, but the talk of the McDonald woman in court was an example of how utterly lost to all sense of delicacy and decency a woman, who once falls, can become.

The Courts.

In Judge Cheney's court yesterday in Thomas vs. Jameson, judgment was ordered for the plaintiff.

William Garms, a native of Germany, was admitted to citizenship.

JUDGE GARDINER.

B. Mebar was examined as to his sanity and ordered discharged.

Distribution of the estate of Samuel H. Towne was ordered.

JUDGE O'MELVENY.

Hall et al. vs. Perret is still on trial.

JUSTICE AUSTIN.

Richard Gates, for petit larceny, was fined $75.

The case of John Simpson, for battery, is set for June 1st, at 11 a.m.

Myrtle McDonald, for battery, is on trial.

Charles Rogers and Fred Forrest, up for petit larceny, were discharged.

Frank Allen, for petit larceny, was fined $60.

JUSTICE TANEY.

M. Hansen, for disturbing the peace, was fined $6.

A WOMAN-BEATER.

The Story Told by the Woman Seeking Relief.

A Spanish woman, who gave her name as Teresa Frank, or Franco, came to the police station last night to procure the arrest of one Francisco Cova. She lives on Alameda street, and her story was that Cova, with whom she has been living, is an idle, worthless brute; that she takes in washing to support herself and boy and him, and that when she refused him money on Tuesday he gave her a severe beating. She wants to get rid of him. She was instructed to appear in Justice Austin's court this morning for relief. The woman's hair is streaked with gray, but she does not look like one that any small man would tackle. The officer on that beat was told to keep an eye on the place last night, to catch the man if he attempted any more woman-beating.

WHITMAN'S NEW GUARANTEED SUPERIOR TO ANY LEVER PRESS NOW MADE REBOUND PLUNGER

DOUBLE-ACTING, CONTINUOUS,

HAY, STRAW, & WOOL PRESS

READ THE FOLLOWING:

EL CAJON, San Diego Co., Cal., Aug. 1, 1885.

Whitman Agricultural Co., St. Louis, Mo.—GENTLEMEN: We have pressed 400 tons with our "Improved Whitman's Hay Press" this season, in 18x22 press, in about two months' running. We have pressed from eight to fourteen tons a day in grass hay; from eight to ten tons a day with ease. We have pressed in grain hay eight tons in six hours, just to see what the press would do. In grain hay the bales run from 180 to 240 pounds. We have pressed 190 pounds with ten feeds, which the Dederick press cannot do, because their feed-box is not so large as ours. The bales made by our Whitman press are much smoother and more sightly than bales made by the Dederick press. We have pressed twenty bales an hour, averaging 150 pounds to the bale, in wild oats hay. We pressed hay this year upon the same ranch where the Dederick Over Circle press baled last year. Their bales weighed 85 to 125 pounds; our bales weighed 125 to 190 pounds. In testimony that the foregoing statement is true, the undersigned crew running the "Whitman Improved Perpetual Hay Press" belonging to Gregg Bros., El Cajon, San Diego county, Cal., have hereunto set our hands and seals the day and date first above written. EDWIN E. GREGG, SYDNEY H. GREGG, FRANK BURNHAM, JOHN O'CONNELL, FRANK KHIENBR.

California Remedies of Sarsfield Remedies Co.

Sarsfield's Remedy for the Blood and Constipation.
Sarsfield's Remedy for Diphtheria and Pneumonia.
Sarsfield's Chronic Ulcer Salve

These remedies are well known in Central and Northern California, and are now introduced in the southern counties. The MAKING OF CERTIFICATES has related so largely to fraud that the public has naturally grown suspicious of them. But those here referred to are by such prominent citizens, of such irreproachable character, and the cures are so well known, and the witnesses are so easy to reach, that we make the references without any hesitation:

MRS. H. C. GOODRIDGE, 28 Hawthorne street, San Francisco, 9 years a sufferer from chronic ulcers, and her case abandoned by physicians, permanently cured. Certified to by Mrs. Sarah B. Cooper, the well-known philanthropist, and president of the Kindergarten Association, San Francisco.

MRS. M. R. ADAMS, formerly of Sacramento, completely cured at the residence of her brother, Benjamin Welch, master car-builder of the Southern Pacific Company, Sacramento, of running sore on the arm of 8 years' standing, and that had nearly sapped her life.

Sterling exchange, dull and steady, at 4.86 for 60 day bills; 4.87½ for demand.

Governments bonds were dull but firm.

Today was another dull and listless day for most stocks, but dealings were marked by increased strength, and material advances were recorded in several specialties. St. Paul and Duluth was again a conspicuously strong stock. San Francisco stocks were favorably affected by the handsome earnings reported among other strong specialties. Oregon Improvement and New England was the only really feverish stock on the list, and, while it was inclined to heaviness at first, rumors of a new deal were circulated, and it became the specially strong stock at the close. The close was dull and firm at or near the best prices of the day.

St. James.

St. James.

The development of Southern California seems to follow in the wake of the "Santa Fe Trail," as the "People's Line" is known in the East.

The magnificent foothill country has been opened, towns created and fortunes made by the investors in town property.

Now comes the first new town in the beautiful valley of the Santa Ana,

ST. JAMES.

It is located just at the outlet of the Santa Ana canyon, near the foothills, commanding a beautiful view of the Pacific Ocean.

Anaheim, four and a half miles, Orange, five miles, Santa Ana, nine miles. It will naturally control the great business of the Santiago Valley, and there is no soil more fertile, no landscape more entertaining, no future more promising, than this first new town in the Santa Ana Valley. The finest water power in the county is close to the townsite. The mill grinds day and night, with a force of 120-horse power.

The water for the town of St. James is there now, not "to be developed," but actually there.

The townsite is clean, level and perfect.

The maps will be out in a day or two, and the day of sale, which will be by auction, to the highest bidder, without reserve, will be named soon. The sale will positively occur this month.

Remember, the first purchasers always make money in our new towns.

THE DAIRY MAIDS.

A LARGE AUDIENCE AND A SUCCESSFUL OPENING.

General Description of the Cottages and Booths—The Programme Presented Last Night—Sherman's Illusions—Attractions Tonight.

The Festival of the Dairymaids at the Pavilion, which is to continue for six nights and a matinée, opened very auspiciously last evening. The ladies of the First Congregational Church, who have the affair in charge, expected to obtain possession of the building last Friday morning, but on account of the extension of the grand opera season, they were not able to begin the work of preparing for their festival till Monday morning. When one considers the large number of strongly-built seats that had to be removed and the numerous cottages and booths that had to be constructed, the ladies are entitled to much credit for the completeness of the preparations shown last evening. There are still a few finishing touches to some portions to be made today, when the immense building will be a place of attraction well worth visiting.

On entering the building by the east entrance, on the south side, the first structure encountered is the "Home of the Dairymaids." This is a real two-story cottage, of a dark brown color, with wide eaves and a broad veranda across one end. Directly under the veranda is located the soda fountain, where one may slake his thirst for a trifle. On the outside of the building is a stairway leading to the upper story, which is provided with chairs and other furniture. In front of the "Home" and facing the center fountain, is a flower garden, enclosed by an evergreen fence, with beds of many varieties of blossoms to be admired. Inside, the witchingly-dressed ladies are ready to receive guests. The furniture is rural, consisting of deal tables, a bureau, some stools and benches, wooden spoons, a spinning-wheel, etc. These, with the pretty white curtains and cleanly-kept floor, make quite a pleasant picture.

To the right of this is the "Sybils' Cave," which is a deep recess framed so as to represent a rough and rocky interior, with a sand bottom, and real and imitation rocks strewn around. The walls are made of some material, which sparkles under the electric light, and with the icicles pendent from the roof, presents a nice effect. This cave is inhabited by several Gypsies, who are not averse to telling fortunes for a small piece of shining silver.

The "spring house" next calls attention, being an octagonal structure, prettily decorated with evergreens and any amount of flowers, in the shape of rosettes, garlands, bouquets, baskets, and designs. The top is draped with the stars and stripes. Inside is a fountain, and numerous rural ladies are ready to serve strawberries and cream, cake, and other natural productions of such a house.

Still further on, one comes to the "granary" and "sugar house." The former is a square building, with a pointed roof thatched with straw, and within may be found the hay and grain, while on the counter various forms of the pop-corn ball tempt the eye for a nickel.

The "sugar house" is a conical-shaped house, much like a wigwam, with a wide opening in front. It is prettily bespangled with evergreens within and at the entrance, and inside sweet ladies will dispense candies, nuts, and tonight hot maple sugar on ice, which will be a treat to many an easterner. The ochestra stand is located near by, in front of the stage.

Across, on the west side of the Pavilion and near the stage, is "The Old Oaken Bucket." It is hung on the ancient sweep, and really goes down into the well—of lemonade to refresh the pleasure traveler. Flowers, evergreens, moss and stones, with "the maid o' the well," are its surroundings to make it attractive.

Next to this is the creamery, a square structure, with arched entrances and round windows over them. It, also, has an abundance of decorative flowers and evergreens very prettily displayed. Inside are the milk cans and crocks, the tables, and churn and other proper accessories, including the obliging ladies who will serve strawberries and cream, brown bread and butter, with milk or cream, johnny-cake and butter doughnuts, and other such staunch delicacies to remind one of "good old times way down East."

The arbor, next to this, is octagonal in shape, covered with evergreens, and festooned with trailing ivy.

And last in the round comes the "Home of the Ice Queen," a beautiful round light-colored structure, with a fleecy, sparkling covering and shining pendants at the windows that glisten in the bright light. Inside is a soft, white lining, and the large white elevated seat of the queen.

On the east and west sides of the Pavilion, and separated from the main portion by evergreen fences, are the dining-rooms, which may be reached through turnstiles, and where the hungry, or not very hungry, visitor may order eatables to his heart's or stomach's content, and be happy. Such is a short description of the cottages and booths. The names of the ladies who preside over the different departments were given yesterday morning. The list should have included Miss Ellen Shares, who assists Mrs. Smith at the soda stand. The ladies in attendance at the different stands were all in appropriate costumes.

THE AUDIENCE AND PROGRAMME.

The number of people present last evening exceeded the expectations of the ladies for the first night, and they were correspondingly happy. It certainly was a very encouraging opening, something near two thousand being present. And those who attended could not certainly have regretted the admittance fee considering the attractions offered in the building and the programme so nicely rendered, and which was given in THE TIMES of yesterday morning.

Mrs. Carrie C. Mason, from the Sybil's cave, sang a Gypsy's song very creditably at the opening. That the large audience appreciated the renditions of the programme was evidenced by the hearty applause and encores given. The dairymaids, with their white caps, scarlet bodices, white dresses, red stockings and low shoes presented a very pretty appearance when they came out, some sixty strong, to take part in the choruses, while the peasant lads, with their broad straw hats, white wool shirts, blue knee-breeches and scarlet sashes showed to very good advantage. The maids carried each her three-legged stool and tin pail, and the lads were each armed with a mowing-scythe, upon which they kept time with their whetstones while singing.

The stage settings were very appropriate to the costumes and songs, and the drill of the dairymaids, consisting of marches, counter-marching, evolutions and figures, received generous applause.

SHERMAN'S ILLUSIONS

were one of the main features of attraction, as they have been shown only once before on this coast, and it is not exaggerating to say that this part alone was worth the admission to those who have not witnessed them. The ease with which one scene dissolves into one of a different character, and the truthful representations of living statuary are mysterious and beautiful. Altogether, the first evening was a successful success.

Tomorrow the ladies will serve a light lunch from 11 a.m. till 2 p.m., consisting of tea and coffee, doughnuts, sandwiches, brown bread, hasty pudding and milk, strawberries, ice cream, etc. One can order from 10 cents upward, and receive a substantial return for his investment. In the evening reserved seats will be furnished for 25 cents to any who desire them, and the following general programme will be given. The stage presentations and music will be different on each succeeding evening from the evening preceding. The second night will include:

PART I.

Grand Tableau—"Every Cloud has a Silver Lining."
Chorus—"A Dairy Maid Am I."
Chorus of Reapers.
Chorus of Binders.
Chorus of Gleaners.
Grand Chorus.
Drills.

PART II.

Tableau—"Dews of Evening."
Scriptural Tableau, in Four Parts—"In the Shadow of the Cross."

ORCHESTRA—IN CHARGE OF MR. LOUIS HEINE.

Selection—"Mikado" (Sullivan).
Dance—"Spanish" (Mozkouski).

The programme will begin at 8 p.m., sharp.

Pullman Passengers.

The following Pullman passengers left yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

C. A. Post, Mrs. J. M. Gleabes, Mrs. James Douglas, Miss E. W. Erder, Messrs. Wishard and Irwin, J. S. Phillips, F. J. Guth, Mrs. G. W. Fillmore, S. J. Fleming, F. Macay, Mr. Eliel.

At 7:30 the following passengers were booked:

Mr. Tallis, John Palm, George B. Kelly, J. R. Cox, Mrs. McCore, Mrs. J. W. Dagan, —— Kalter, C. M. Keine, W. H. Bailey.

Without a License.

John Doe Evans, John Doe Goudre and P. G. Eddy were complained of yesterday for violating the license law and warrants issued for their arrest. Eddy was brought into court upon this charge and pleaded not guilty. His trial was set for Thursday, May 26th, at 1:30, in Justice Austin's court. Mr. Eddy is a real-estate dealer, with an office on First street, and it is for carrying on this business without a license that he has been brought into court.

Police Protection for the Salvationists.

The Salvationists were given police protection at their meeting on the Temple street hill last night. The officer had a number of altercations with hoodlums and boys, who did not recognize him in his citizen's attire. He gave the billy to the former and the palm of his hand to the latter, until order was pretty near perfect. The Salvationists were very grateful for the service rendered, and the Turkish member urged on the officer the great need of his own salvation.

The Horse Wandered Off.

A horse, belonging to Mrs. Robbins, wandered away from its moorings at the Pavilion last night, and the police were informed through the impression that the rig had been stolen. An hour or so after the horse and buggy were found intact in the neighborhood, and the police were so informed to relieve them of further search.

People's Store.

Today we offer a line of brocaded silks in plain and fancy colors. These goods have been displayed in our window for the past two days, and passers-by have wondered how it was possible that such goods could be sold at 75c. a yard. All we have to say is that they are for sale today at that price, and those who purchase a garment of 20 yards will make a saving of just $10.

In our window we displayed yesterday a line of plain and fancy parasols at a uniform price of $1.25 each. Those who have selected any one of these should call early as in some cases we have but a single parasol and may never have the opportunity again.

In looking through our basement we came across a half-dozen pieces of crepe lines stored away and have resolved to place them upon our counters today at 15c. They are very desirable patterns and well worth 25c.

Another of those remarkable specialties which we have been in the habit of offering lately will be placed upon our embroidery counter today. We have three special lines of embroideries, one at 15c., one at 20c., and one at 25c. We consider these three lines far superior to those we offered last Monday. These values are more than double the prices asked today.

New today is a line of boxed dress robes. They consist of 10 yards white mull, elegant quality, and 9 yards of embroidery; 4½ yards of this is 9 inches wide, and the remaining 4½ yards 2½ inches wide, elegantly put up in boxes, and assorted patterns of embroidery. You may select your pattern from any of these for $2.75, and none worth less than $4.50.

Today we offer a line of navy blue polka dot sateens at 6¼c. a yard; worth 10c.

One of our greatest bargains for today is a pair of ecru or white lace curtains at $3.50 a pair—either a walnut rosewood, ebony or oak cornice, with fixtures complete, will be given free. They are worth $5 a pair.

A wireless bustle, 25c. For comfort and durability they have no equal.

Striped India mull for summer dresses. They are as handsome goods as can be found. We offer this line at 10c. a yard; worth 20c. People's Store.

Money Is No Object.

The lives of your children are of priceless value. Every child is subject to sudden attacks of bowel complaint during the summer months. It is always alarming and often fatal. The only rational plan is to be provided at all times with the safest and surest remedy, and promptly treat the disorder in its first stages, and before the vitality becomes exhausted. Unexpected delays so often occur in sending for a physician or medicine, especially during the night or from a distance, that no one can afford to risk such uncertainties when life depends upon promptness. Keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy at hand for instant use. It is made for bowel complaint only and is unquestionably the most reliable medicine ever brought into general use. The price is no object compared with its value in saving life. Sold by C. H. Hance, 77 and 79 North Spring street.

For fear of losing a day's work, many persons put off taking physic until Saturday. The better plan is to not delay, but take it as soon as needed: it may save you a hard spell of sickness. If you want the most benefit from the least amount of physic, without causing you any inconvenience, loss of appetite or rest, take St. Patrick's Pills. Their action on the liver and bowels are thorough. They give a freshness, tone and vigor to the whole system, and act in harmony with nature. Sold by C. H. Hance, 77 and 79 North Spring street.
